

STATE MARKET BODY
REPLIES TO MORGAN
ON CHEESE ATTACK

Makes Public Letter from U. S.
Official Showing Badger
Cheese Popular in East

MADISON, Wis.—A reply was given Wednesday by the state department of markets to the claim of Attorney General William J. Morgan, that the cheese industry of Wisconsin was being imperiled by grading regulations, by publication of a letter from the U. S. department of agriculture asserting that cheese from this state is meeting with favor in eastern markets because of its standards.

The letter made public by the department of markets, which was written by R. C. Potts, in charge of the division of dairy and poultry products, of the U. S. department, says in part:

"Last week I spent one day at each of the markets in Boston, New York and Philadelphia. While at these markets, I took occasion to inquire of our representatives regarding the effect of the Wisconsin grades on American cheese on the marketing of cheese in these markets.

"In the eastern markets, quality is becoming more and more an important factor with the trade, and high quality goods, such as your Wisconsin 'Fancy' cheese, are readily sold at a premium over No. 1. It should be of interest to you to know that the Wisconsin system of grading cheese has been received with so much favor in the eastern markets, and should result in Wisconsin producers obtaining premiums for their highest quality cheese.

"Our representative on the New York market stated that the wholesale cheese receivers are free in their praise of the Wisconsin grading and, while occasionally they take slight exception to the grading that, on the whole, they consider it in line with the quality of the cheese. The dealers state that since the grading of Wisconsin cheese has become effective, the quality of Wisconsin cheese has materially improved and shipments are more uniform in quality than formerly."

H. C. HART DISSOLVES
CORPORATION; FIRM
WILL BE CONTINUED

Homer Curtis Hart has filed notice of the dissolution of the H. C. Hart Implement company, a corporation of which he was secretary-treasurer. The company engaged in the sale of farming implements. Mr. Hart will continue to operate the H. C. Hart Implement company as the sole owner.

LAUGHS AT DANGER—BUT RUNS FROM A SPIDER

Lily Letzel coming with Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey.

Of all the aerial artists with the great Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey circus none perform more hazardous feats than Lily Letzel. Tiny of figure, with golden hair, and dressed in the fluffiest of costumes, she daily ascends to the dome of the "world's biggest tent top," there to execute the most intricate of gymnastics, including a giant "half flange."

This means that she literally tosses her body over her own shoulder often as many as 100 times while suspended in mid-air. The most dangerous part of Miss Letzel's act is accomplished when there is no net beneath to break a possible fall.

Those who have seen this remarkable girl doubtless conclude that she knows no fear. Yet she never ascends to her lofty place without a shudder. The reasons for her discomfort are of two kinds—spiders and grasshoppers.

"Laugh if you will," says Miss Letzel, "but I must confess to an absolute horror of the little beasts. You see spiders and grasshoppers are frequently carried skyward when the tents are raised from the ground, and I just know that some day one of the horrid things will take a notion to light upon me while I am doing my act. And if it does, I know I'll just die of fright."

High-air performers are great in number on this season's program of the big double circuses. In all, more than 600 men and women performers will be seen here, and in addition the Ringling Brothers will exhibit three steel arenas filled with wonderful wild animal acts, thirty trained Barbary stallions and many other entirely new acts. Performances are to be given here on August 2.

Public Debate

There are a good many contradictory statements printed in newspapers today as to the conditions existing in Soviet Russia. In your Sunday issue there appeared an article to the effect that a letter was received from Russia at Aberdeen, South Dakota, bearing a quarter million rubles in postage stamps, which practically formed a wrapper about the envelope.

This statement must be greatly exaggerated because I have been receiving letters from Moscow which is the heart of Soviet Russia, both politically and industrially, and the postage has not been anywhere near that amount, although it's bad enough.

The first letter which I received about three months ago was registered, and bore two stamps of the Soviet government; one for 1,500 rubles and the other for 2,500 rubles. Even the stamps carried the propaganda of the Bolsheviks for each of them bore the following legend in Russian: "Proletarians of all lands unite!"

It costs fifteen cents to send a registered letter to Russia so that would make an American cent equal to approximately 2,000 rubles. (A ruble was worth about 50 cents before the war. Even if the letter received at Aberdeen did cost one-fourth million rubles in postage, I don't see how the stamps could have covered anything but a small portion of the envelope in view of their high denomination. Another letter which I received from Poland bore five stamps of ten marks each, but were not registered. As the registration costs ten cents extra, it would indicate that a Polish mark was equivalent to one-tenth of a United States cent.

There is a curious fact about another letter received from Moscow a week and a half ago. It bore stamps of the old regime of Czar Nicholas, totaling in value 40 kopeks. (A kopek before the war was equal approximately to one cent.) I was tempted to believe that the government, which is only in an embryonic state after all, had changed hands again. I certainly can't understand how postage of the reign of the ex-czar would be allowed to circulate, unless the Bolsheviks are running short of paper in their frenzied printing of paper money. Even if so, that doesn't explain its greater value.

Very truly yours,
PHILIP H. WAIN.

DWELL IN HIM

HERBIE knew we that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his spirit.—1 John 3:11.

"Guards"

AT Clinton, Illinois, a boy and his father were shot during the railroad strike difficulties. The father was a striking railroader. The Associated Press said the shot was fired by a "railroad guard." A railroad guard usually is a private detective in the private employ of the company.

The question arises as to the status of the railroad guard. Is he in any better situation than would have been any other private citizen who had shot down another citizen? Is he a felon, as you would have been had you shot a man in a private dispute? Probably most people will say he had no more right to fire than any other private citizen.

Here rests a question of government policy that one day will have to be settled right. We see the thing in all its ugliness in the matter of "mine guards." Mostly they are thugs hired by the mine owners. Congressional investigation has disclosed that they are not impartial officers of the law, but bitter partisans of the mine owners.

The law must be enforced as to all citizens alike, whether strikers or employers. But a democracy is not supposed to enforce its laws by arming one side in a civil dispute against the other. Order should be maintained by men as friendly to one side as to the other. Officers of the law should have no other interest than law enforcement. When private business gathers a bunch of retainers, and pays them, their pay makes them partisans. Not law and order, but their employers' side of the case, interests them. Therefore order should be maintained by people in the pay, not of employers, but of government. Order and square dealing, should be their motives. Nothing tends more certainly to industrial bitterness than the knowledge that government permits private industry to hire and pay its own officers of the law, and to operate them under the cloak of deputization. When federal troops replaced the "rangers" in the Pennsylvania steel war less than two years ago, good will between the strikers and the state was at once re-established, because the strikers knew the troops were working for their government, and not for their opponents.

In maintaining order in the present situation the government at Washington should bear this in mind. The old way of letting employers set up feudal armies in their private employ to bear arms against other private citizens will have to go. We are not living in the middle ages. Today's civilization will not much longer tolerate such abuses.

School and the Press

E. S. RICE, Wisconsin state supervisor of school libraries, read a paper before the library department of the National Educational Association in Boston in which he urged a course in newspaper reading for the higher grades of grammar schools and for high schools. He deemed it important to make school children "intelligent and discriminating readers of the daily papers," and advises "regular subscriptions to daily newspapers" for the use in school libraries and reading rooms.

Mr. Rice asserts that "what can be done to improve the newspapers is not so much the problem as what can be done to improve the readers," for he believes that in the last analysis "upon the reading public depends the quality of the press."

Mr. Rice has given us something to think about. The thing is a wheel in daily life. If we are going to improve a condition in life, we should begin in the schools, which give the young mind its outlook on life. He is undoubtedly right in saying that to a great extent the reader controls the character of the newspaper. Newspapers live on circulation and advertising. Circulation is the first essential, because it brings not only circulation income, but advertising income as well. This is true because in order to sell advertising newspapers must have circulation. Therefore there is a strong incentive for the publisher to please the reader. As a business proposition

he will give his readers what they want if he can find out what it is.

Another way to put it is that what life is, is important in the news. A well known publisher once said that "whatever is fit to happen is fit to print." That is rather too broad an assertion, but the fact remains that what happens—the things that men and women do—forms the general run of news. If men and women do only good things, we should always have good news and every newspaper would be fit for the family.

Here again we go back to the schools, to the formative period in life. To teach school children, through newspaper reading, to discriminate and to demand the better things in newspaper will help. Teaching them to lead good lives, so that more and more it will be true that better classes of things happen will improve the news, because the things that happen are the news. The wheel of influence is here complete, because the newspaper man himself comes through the schools. Living good lives, demanding good reading in newspapers will help to make a world of good people, including good newspaper men, which means good newspapers and good news. The newspaper as a text for use in the schools is as good a foundation for the study of the life of the times and how to improve it as can be devised. One hopes that Mr. Rice's ministry will be continued.

Frightful

NEW YORK City some day will have 50,000,000 population, predict the engineers of Safety Institute of America. How would you like to live in a city of that size?

The safety engineers, however, are wrong. Before New York passes the 10,000,000 mark, the airplane will begin breaking up the cities. People will live in the country, going to cities only to work and shop. Entertainment will be at home—movies and "legitimate" theatrical productions seen and heard by wireless.

Widows

A THIRD of the widows of America are badly in need of money, estimates John L. Shull, insurance expert. This is not propaganda on his part, to sell insurance, for he makes the estimate at a private gathering of life underwriters in Cleveland. A man insures his house and furniture for as close to its full value as the insurance company will permit. But he usually insures his life at only a fraction of its value to his family, though the bread-winner's life is his family's real wealth.

Looking for trouble is a fine way to lose your head.

In Ye Olden Times

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

A resolution to appropriate $5,000 for the improvement of the La Crosse road was carried by a vote of twenty to one at the common council meeting last night.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Tiffany leave tonight for Billings, Montana, to meet a party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Tiffany, Miss Shepard and Mr. and Mrs. Argle Scott and from there will start for Yellowstone Park. Mrs. Elsie Gile Scott will join them Sunday.

Corner L. Kleber will leave for Milwaukee tomorrow to attend the annual state convention of coroners which will be held there next week.

It is rumored in democratic circles today that Dr. Woodrow Wilson, the democratic nominee for president, has tacitly agreed to speak in five Wisconsin cities some time in September, his itinerary to include Racine, Milwaukee, Oshkosh, Madison and La Crosse.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Next Saturday afternoon, the cornerstone of the new Masonic Temple at Eighth and Main streets, will be laid. The services will be the most impressive ever held in this city. Several Masonic lodges from nearby towns have been invited to attend. State Grand Master Dr. D. M. Miller of Oconomowoc will have charge of the services and will be assisted by a large number of other prominent Masons from various parts of the state.

Mr. Frank Marcus and Miss Carrie Olson were married Thursday evening, July 10, by Rev. A. K. Sagen. Mr. Marcus is employed in Rose's jewelry store.

The Central Electric company is putting up a service wire between its power house on State street and the north side of the North La Crosse residents will now have an all day and all night light and power service. This will be an inestimable accommodation to north side citizens generally and it is thought it will be the means of bringing many small factories to North La Crosse.

Misses Margaret and Marie Sorenson of North La Crosse are making arrangements to depart for San Francisco where they will make their home with their brother.

Judge Harvey E. Hubbard, a pioneer resident of this city, died early yesterday afternoon. Mr. Hubbard was born in New York in 1820 and came to La Crosse in 1851. He held many public offices here, among them postmaster, police justice and clerk of circuit court.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

In future the weather bureau at this point will publish an additional report on the regular river bulletin. It comes from the gauge at the head of Des Moines Rapids above Keokuk and will be of much interest to those interested in the river. It will give the stage of water on the rapids so boatmen will be able to tell when boats can go over them without going through the canal.

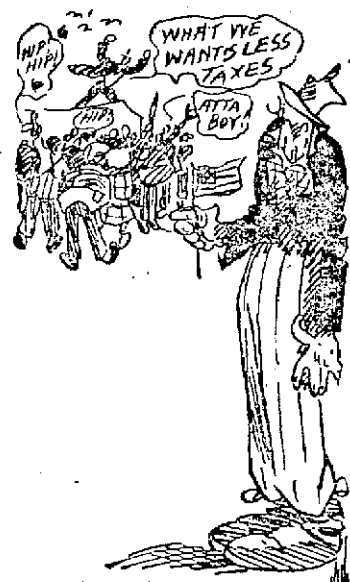

O. I. Newton has closed down his paper mill to make extensive improvements on it and will not get it running again until September. When it is finished it will be one of the best equipped mills in the state.

Tuesday a case of glanders was discovered in a horse in the street car barn. It was killed immediately. A vast improvement has been made in Galesville this week by the laying of a new sidewalk from the lower to the upper table.

Frank Gifford, of the firm of Gifford Brothers, and Jack Connor, formerly a trimmer at the Wallis Carriage factory, have gone to Milwaukee to work for the Northwestern Sleigh Company. Carl J. Gifford of Chippewa Falls, will take Frank Gifford's place here.

William Apsey has purchased the residence property of Mrs. Sawyer Clark at 1213 Caladoulia street, and is engaged in remodeling it.

When Jack Lost His Rudder

BY CORONA REMINGTON

"Yes, I'd love to do it, but father doesn't approve."
"Jack Stamford! Isn't it your $5,000 you want to put into this business, and aren't you of age, and haven't you enough sense to do a little thinking for yourself once in a while? Sometimes you make me so mad I could cry."

Vivian Shippe jumped up from theavenport where she had been sitting beside her fiancé and hurriedly dashed at her eyes as she started toward the door. In one stride he was beside her and had her in his arms.

"Oh, but you don't understand," he pleaded. "I'm all right, and he's watched over me and cared for me and advised me ever since I was in kindergarten. It would kill him if I went against his wishes. I always consult him about everything."

"I see you do," she answered drily. "That hurts, Vivian," he said quietly.

They were nearer a quarrel than they ever had been, and in a rush of pent-up emotion Vivian put her arms around him.

"Forgive, Jack; I'm a little out today. I know how hard your position must be, but he isn't fair to you."

"He's wonderful to me. He's the finest father a chap ever had," Stamford defended.

"Well, even if you lost the money, I'd rather you'd change in and see what you can do for yourself. It looks like a good chance to me even if I don't know much about business."

Almost imperceptibly the man shook his head and sighed. "I don't know what to do; heaven knows I don't. Well, I promised dad I'd be back by ten. He wants a game of chess tonight, and his old cronies at the club's gone back on him."

Reluctantly they parted, and Vivian went up to her room more depressed and discouraged than she had been in weeks. What sort of man was Jack's father, anyhow, she wondered. She had not lived in Morris four long, and only knew a few people there, and she had always dodged when Jack had suggested bringing his father around. Somehow she dreaded this man she had never met. He must be an overbearing, conceited, big sort of creature, she reflected, or he wouldn't try to ruin his son the way he did.

What could be done to break Jack loose? As things were now he would never be a man. How she would love to tell the old man what she thought of him! As the idea flashed through her mind her lips straightened out into a grim little line of determination.

Next morning at breakfast her family noticed that she seemed to be preoccupied, and just a little excited.

OUT OUR WAY

"I'm going uptown," she told her mother, after breakfast.

"What for, dear?"

"Oh, it's a secret mission—some reform work," she answered lightly. A moment later she was deftly backing the little green car out of the garage and planning her campaign.

As she stopped in front of the tall office building her courage almost failed her, but she went bravely in and let the speeding elevator rush her to her destiny.

"Mr. Stamford," she began, as she confronted a rather handsome middle-aged man in the president's office of the Longacre Iron Works. "I'm Vivian Shippe, Jack's fiancée."

"Jack's what? Why, he never told me!" ejaculated Stamford senior.

"I don't blame him," answered the girl, coolly, feeling her composure coming back. "And that's just what I've come here to talk to you about. You are simply ruining Jack. He hardly dares to breathe without your consent, and he has about as much initiative as a three-year-old. He's a mollycoddle, that's what he is, and it isn't his fault, either—it's yours, all yours. You think you're a devoted father, instead of which you're a leech sucking the marrow out of your own son. He has no worse enemy in this whole world than his father."

Stamford, red and spluttering, opened his mouth to speak, but Vivian silenced him with a look and went on:

"He wanted to start out in business for himself, but you discouraged him. What if he did fall and lose a few thousands? I'd rather have a man headstrong who had tried and who had learned of his own than one who was scared to venture anything. I'm going to marry him because I love him, but I'd almost do it if it was only to have him from you, his devoted father."

"That's all I have to say," she ended. "I don't care how much you hate me—what'll you do now, but think over what I've said, will you?"

With a nod she was gone. Once back in her car an outburst of pent-up emotion swept over and her hands on the steering wheel trembled so that she could hardly drive.

Reaching home, she rushed up the backstairs to her room and looked herself in. Two hours later the telephone rang.

"Say, dearest, got to see you right away. Coming now."

In a flash he had hung up and the girl had just time to dab some powder on her tear stained face and straighten her rusted hair.

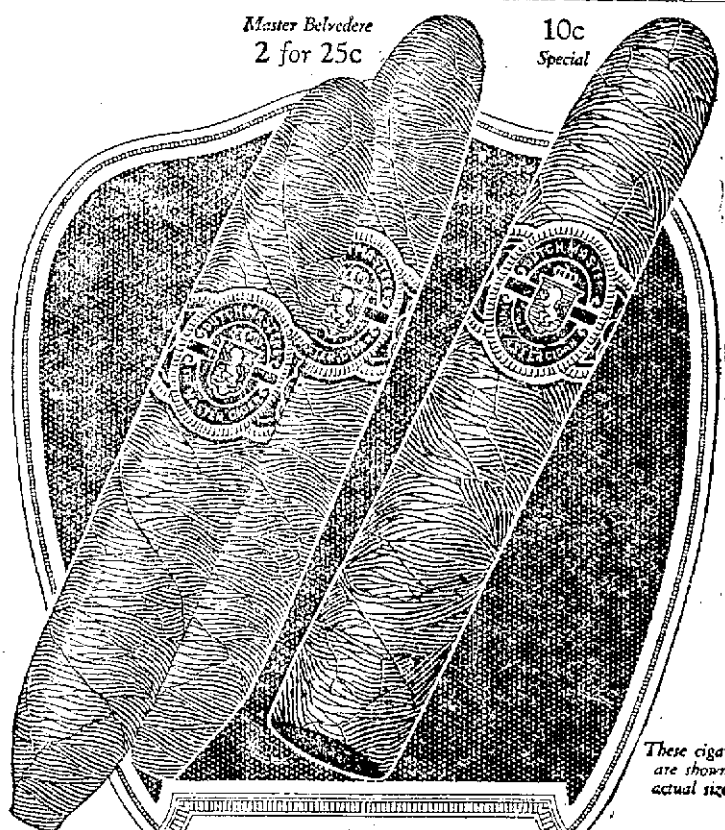

"Whoops! The best news. It's a corker. Dad's a trump—always told you he was—called me up and we just had an interview and he told me he'd reconsidered the matter about my going into business, and thought it was a good plan. Just as if that wasn't knockout enough he calmly handed me a check for $10,000 so as to give me a good start."

"What a perfect dear he is!" exclaimed Vivian.

"Yes, but he acted awfully funny. I was a little worried for a while. After we got through he said, 'Son, if you have a best girl or anything of that sort, tell her that love is often blind, but not always inexcusable so.' I tried to get him to explain, but he just laughed and put out his hand."

"The dear," said Vivian softly. "I believe I'd like to meet him now. I just knew I'm going to love him." (Copyright, 1922, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

HALF A HUNDRED ENTERTAINED AT COUNTRY CLUB

AT THE COUNTRY club at ladies' day luncheon Wednesday, places were laid for forty-six, only small groups of guests being entertained. Thirty golfers were served to luncheon the day before.

MRS. EVA MARSTON has returned from Albert Lea where she spent three weeks.

MR. AND MRS. Samuel P. Fellows have gone to Plum Lake where they have taken a cottage for three weeks.

THE WOMAN'S UNION of the Tabernacle Baptist church will meet at the home of Mrs. Charles Blanchard, 412 Rose street, on Thursday afternoon at half past two. A missionary program will be given and a picnic lunch will be served. The members are asked to bring their White Cross work. All members are asked to be present and friends are invited.

BORN TO MR. AND MRS. A. W. Zecher at St. Ann's hospital Friday, a daughter, seven and one-half pounds.

MISS LUCILLE J. TROTT of Aberdeen, S. D., spent the week-end with her aunt, Mrs. H. R. Clemans and Mrs. C. A. Harrison.

MISS CECILIA TWITE was pleasantly surprised Friday evening at her home, 514 South Ninth street, in honor of her birthday. Music and dancing furnished the amusement of the evening and a dainty lunch was served at eleven o'clock. Miss Twite received numerous pretty gifts. The guests were the Misses Catherine Sordich, Marie and Leona Lohreiter, Emma Twite, Mabel Erickson, Sarah Jerez, Mildred Gorrard, Helen Shishak, Sadie Van Dyke, Gladys Swick and Eunice Slater.

THE MEMBERS of the Jefferson club met Thursday night at eight o'clock at the city hall. Any one believing in the principles of Thomas Jefferson is invited.

MISS VERA RODEL of Picayune, Miss., is visiting her cousins, Mrs. J. H. Furber and Mrs. J. P. Brudlos.

MRS. LEO GAHAN of Milwaukee is the guest of friends in town.

LITTLE MISS ELEANOR Irons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Irons of Winona, has been spending a few days at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Christopher Thornton.

WALTER B. GUENZIS of Green Bay will be in town for a few days, the guest of his mother, Mrs. J. B. Guenzis, 125 West Avenue South.

THE VICTORY School Community club held its monthly meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. August Kumm on Sunday. About forty were in attendance and all enjoyed a pleasant time. At four o'clock a delicious lunch was served.

A SEVEN POUND daughter, Marilyn Elizabeth, was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Riddlestone, 1118 Vine street, Tuesday, at St. Ann's hospital.

MONDAY EVENING Miss Bernice Gibbons entertained at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Meryl Clements, an August bride. Miss Clements was the recipient of many beautiful and practical gifts. At 11 o'clock a delicious lunch was served. Centering the table and marking the place of the bride-elect was a basket of yellow and white daisies and ferns. Those present were: Meryl Clements, Mary O'Connor, Dorothy McCauley, Marcellyn Bates, Ruth Fitzner, Elsie Scanlan, Gladys Swick, Mrs. Jack Terpstra and Myrtle and Bernice Gibbons.

LITTLE HELEN Louise Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Stewart, scored a hit with her dancing at the opening of a new theater in Viroqua. The Vernon County Center says of her act: "The manager, Mr. Brown, is to be thanked for bringing such a unique act to Viroqua for the opening as the little ten-year-old toe dancer, Helen Louise Stewart of La Crosse. Such marvelous play of emotion and interpretive dancing in one so young represents most extraordinary talent and training. Surely a high career is open before the little miss."

PARIS REPORT TELLS OF MARRIAGE THERE OF GEORGE J. GOULD

Marries Actress. Less than a Year After Death of His First Wife

NEW YORK.—George J. Gould was married in Paris a week ago for the second time, according to cablegrams to members of the Gould family.

The bride was Mrs. Alice Sinclair, an actress who achieved some success in a musical comedy several years ago.

A sojourn in Scotland until fall, it is understood, will keep Mr. and Mrs. Gould abroad until November.

Mrs. Edith Kingdon Gould, first wife of George J. Gould, died less than a year ago. Mrs. Gould was playing golf with her husband on their estate at Lakewood, N. J., last November when she was stricken by a heart attack and died in a few minutes.

Their Kicks Are Alike

They found the old colored man alongside a road in Kentucky hills. He was in a dazed condition and looked the worse for wear.

"White mule," remarked one of the party, hazarding a guess as to the cause of the old man's plight.

"No sah, boss, no sah," came a feeble voice. "Jes' plain Missouri Gray."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

A Good Word for Him

Hans Schmidt was reputed to be the meanest man in the neighborhood. He died. His body was placed in the grave, and, according to an old Pennsylvania German custom, the people stood around the open grave, waiting for someone to say some good thing about the deceased before filling the grave.

After a long wait, Gustave Schulze said: "Well, I can say just one good thing about Hans: he wasn't always as mean as he was sometimes."—The University Leader.

APPLICATIONS FOR POTATO INSPECTION ARE DUE THIS WEEK

July Fifteenth Last Day on Which Applications May be Filed

MADISON, Wis.—The late date for filing seed potato inspection applications is July 15.

The Horticultural department of the Wisconsin Experiment station
calls attention to the fact that the special seed potato markets of the country are demanding state inspection of seed stock. Seed potato shipping interests all over the country
are recognizing the value of this service.

Seed potato growers in Wisconsin
who are able to furnish seed potato
stock especially of the Rural New Yorker, Russet Rural, Green Mon-
tain, Triumph, Irish Cobbler and Early Ohio varieties are especially urged to avail themselves of this service.

Those who have not received regular application blanks may mail $5.00
fee to the Horticultural Department, Wisconsin Experiment Station, Madison, Wis., before July 15 and the regular application blank will be sent them.

Arrangements have been made with the Wisconsin Department of Markets to ship all certified seed this year under an official state brand designated "Badger State Brand".

PLAN IS DRAWN AFTER MEETING WITH STRIKERS

From several quarters that should the proclamation be not heeded, strong action was contemplated.

The presidential proclamation, issued late Tuesday night after the president and his cabinet had spent the day studying the troubled industrial state of the nation, was generally interpreted Wednesday as a warning to both the striking shopmen and the railroads that the mails must move
and interstate commerce be maintained. Such an interpretation had as its basis the proclamation of somewhat similar nature issued by the president last August when the mine
war was in progress in the West Virginia coal fields.

May Use Troops
The president, in his West Virginia
proclamation, it was recalled, called on all persons engaged in unlawful
and insurrectionary proceedings in the coal fields to disperse and retire peacefully by a certain date. When the proclamation was disregarded Mr.
Harding sent troops into the disturbed regions and placed the area under martial law. Officials declined to say whether such steps lay immediately
behind the railroad strike proclamation, but nevertheless it was being pointed to as a precedent.

Among the indications of possible
government action should strike disorders continue was the disclosure at the war department that the military arm of the government was in readiness to carry out promptly any instructions which might be issued by the president to support the policy declared in his proclamation. So far as known no such instruction has yet been issued from the White House.

Postmaster General Work said he was of the opinion that the presidential proclamation would have determining weight with the thinking people of the country and that its effect both upon railway executives and the great body of striking workers
would be such as to clarify the atmosphere and create a feeling different from that which has actuated
both parties to the strike.

New Disorders Reported
CHICAGO, Ill.—Fresh disorders at scattered points, while troops patrol-ed former trouble centers, arrangements for a conference Wednesday by "Big Four" train service brother-hoods, and an announcement by R. M.
Jewell, head of the striking shop-
crafts, that conferences were planned
with representatives of twenty-one northwestern roads, were among other important developments in the rail strike.

Additional injunctions restraining strikers from interfering with railway operations were granted to several roads.

New appeals for troops were made to the governors of Mississippi, Tennessee and Texas, while Governor
Boyle of Nevada was asked by the Union Pacific for state intervention
in the strike at Las Vegas.

Foreman Given Tar Party
Disorders occurred at Chicago, Milwaukee, Sayre, Pa., Orrville, O., and Dennison, Texas, while at Roadhouse, Ill. Bert Dickson a roundhouse foreman for the Chicago & Alton, said to be a nephew of W. G. Girard, president of the road, was tarred and feathered by a masked band.

Clinton, Ill., New Franklin and Slater, Mo., and Parsons, Kas., where troops were on duty, remained comparatively quiet following several hectic days.

The situation at Bloomington, Ill., remained tense with troops holding the yards and shops. Frequent shootings and the general hostile attitude
of strikers and large crowds of sympathizers kept national guardsmen
in constant vigilance. Meanwhile city and county authorities were attempting to re-establish civil government.

Troops Cause New Strike
Engineers, firemen, trainmen and conductors announced they would refuse to enter the Alton yards at Bloomington to take out trains as long as machine guns bristled in the shops. They voted to operate only mail trains unless the troops were delivered to them outside the shop district during the encampment of the troops in the yards.

Among important developments
of the last twenty-four hours was the announcement by D. W. Helt, president of the signalmen, that no strike
would be called and the failure of clerks, station employees and freight handlers on the Norfolk & Western

OFFER REWARD FOR MEN INVOLVED IN HERRIN MASSACRE

CHICAGO, Ill.—Attorney General E. J. Brundage Wednesday offered a reward of $1,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the persons who committed murder and assault in connection with the strike of the coal
miners in Williamson county.

to respond to an official authorization
of a strike.

Shoppers expressed satisfaction over the success of the strike
while most of the roads were non-committal.

The Baltimore & Ohio, and the Erie sent some of their rolling stock to outside shops for repairs. Fifty-four trains were annulled by the Wabash.

Stone Chicago Home

A crowd of men, women and children stoned the home of Samuel Thompson, a Santa Fe employe, in Chicago. Thompson was working at Corwith, Ill., and his wife was home alone when the attack was made. Police dispersed the mob.

Neither Mr. Jewell nor Chairman
Hooper of the labor board indicated
a tendency to yield much from the positions they took at the outset of the strike. Chairman Hooper made it plain that striking shopmen could come before the labor board only in accordance with the transportation act, and that they must go back to their jobs before they could expect consideration by the board.

Women on Picket Duty

Several railroad employes were attacked and beaten at Fort Worth and Denison, Texas, Tuesday night and early Wednesday and at Denison one man was shot and severely wounded.
Wives of the strikers were active on the picket line at Cleveland and at Buffalo the homes of two railroad men were stoned.

Two trainloads of strikebreakers
near Baltimore were stoned and rife
upon last night but no one was injured.

A request to the governor of Texas
for troops to protect Texas and Pacific workmen at Dallas was made by
J. L. Lanaster, receiver for the road.
Additional injunctions were issued
at Springfield, Ill., and Des Moines, Iowa.

Answer Harding

The striking shopmen at New York,
commenting on President Harding's proclamation, said they would remain
out on strike "even if every mail train
in the district is cancelled" until a satisfactory settlement is reached.

Members of the Big Four train service brotherhoods met at Bloomington
to decide upon their future plans.
If troops are continued on duty around
Chicago & Alton shops at Bloomington, they served notice last night they would operate no trains within the guard lines maintained by the guardsmen.

Predict Speedy Peace

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—A prediction
that the railroad shopmen's strike
will be ended within three days, at least as far as the Chicago & Northwestern road is concerned, was made Wednesday by Charles Thompson,
general agent in Milwaukee.

Mr. Thompson denied reports that forty negroes had been smuggled into the yards of the Chicago & Northwestern road here to work as stockers and pibmen. He admitted that several negroes had gone to work within the last few days and said that several of the older men among the strikers have made application to return to their jobs.

"I am confident that there will be a break in the strike within three days," he said.

The prophecy of the railroad official was coincident with the announcement from the office of United States Marshal Samuel Randolph that all Chicago & Northwestern Federation union officials in Milwaukee county, named in the strike injunction order issued by Judge E. A.
Geiger Monday, have been served by the deputies and that the injunction
is in force.

Officials of the Chicago & Northwestern system federation here were to confer with their attorneys Wednesday afternoon to discuss the question of applying for dissolution of the temporary injunction granted the road by Judge Geiger in United States district court.

One Killed in Virginia

CRDWEL, Va.—Russell Wiggins, a Norfolk & Western yard office clerk,
was killed and an unidentified man
was wounded when someone shot into a crowd of picketing clerks at the station here Tuesday night. All the Norfolk & Western clerks here walked out.

Attack Strikebreakers

DENISON, Texas.—One man was shot and forty-seven alleged strikebreakers and four deputy United States marshals were attacked by a mob of several hundred men believed to be strikers and sympathizers, while being marched from the Union depot to the Missouri, Kansas & Texas
shops here early Wednesday morning.

Sixteen of the men were kidnapped
and taken to the Red River bottoms
and flogged.
The others escaped. Four men claiming to be victims of the mob
were found wandering along the railroad tracks at Collier, Okla., this morning. Those who escaped the mob were shipped out of Denison
last night.

The seeds of the rubber tree contain about 50 per cent each of kernel
and shell. The air-dried kernels contain on the average about 45 per cent of a drying oil. This oil hardens in air and can be used in making linoleum and soft soap.

CHASEBURG VOTES TO INCORPORATE AS VILLAGE, 80 TO 27

First Election of Village Officers
to be Held Aug. 10; Schubert
Council for Community

Chaseburg took another step in its progressive march toward its goal of winning a place in the sun, when the citizens of the community voted on Tuesday to incorporate as a village.
The vote was 80 to 27 for incorporation. On August 10, the village will hold its first village election at which time all village officers will be filled.
A. H. Schubert of La Crosse is the attorney for the community during the successive stages toward incorporation and will continue to act in a legal way for the community until the officers have been elected.

TRAINING COURSE FOR HOTEL MEN IS PLANNED AT CORNELL

BOSTON, Mass.—Details of a plan
for raising a half million dollar fund
for the establishment of a training school for hotel managers at Cornell university, a research bureau for hotel
accounting at Chicago and vocational training schools in several parts of the country for hotel personnel
were made public Wednesday by the American Hotel association. In annual convention here. The course at Cornell will be for four years with three months' training in practical management each year in leading hotels. The degree of bachelor of science will be awarded to graduates who will be qualified as managers and assistant managers.

CHANGE NAME OF BEAUMONT HOTEL TO THE WATERLOO

Part of the renovation of the old Beaumont hotel, recently taken over by A. R. McKernan and Frank Zwerbner young hotel men of Waterloo,
Iowa, will be to change the name.
The name selected by the new owners is Waterloo.

The hotel is being completely redecorated and modernized. A large crew of men is at work, and it is expected that the job will be completed in about ten days. New furnishings in the office and rooms are being installed.

FREE EMPLOYMENT BUREAU HAS JOBS FOR SEVERAL MEN

There are plenty of jobs available
for men who want to work, according to a statement made by R. F. H.
Schultz, manager of the United States free employment office here
Wednesday. "Anyone desiring employment in any line whatever is asked to communicate with the local office."

OBITUARY

HARVEY BUTLER'S FUNERAL
The funeral of Harvey Butler, twelve-
year-old son of Prof. and Mrs. R. H.
Butler, will be held Thursday afternoon in Jacksonport, Door county, Wis., where the boy was killed by a stroke
of lightning. Interment will be made in the family lot in the Jacksonport cemetery.

According to a letter received by Superintendent of Schools B. E. Mc-Cormick the lad was killed at the superior table by a bolt of lightning
which entered the window of the home.
Six other persons were at the table
and none was injured.

JOHN HELFRICH
John Helfrich, 1913 South Fifth street, died at a local hospital early Wednesday morning at the age of 50 years. He is survived by four daughters, Mrs. C. Fredericksen, Holmen, and Mrs. A. Krenner, Mrs. B. Larson and Miss Margaret of La Crosse, also one son, Joseph, of La Crosse. Others who mourn his death are his aged mother,

TRIBUNE MOVIE IS A TRIUMPH SAYS TELEGRAM

The Tribune is in receipt of a telegram from the Muelis Film
company laboratories, informing us that the negative of "The Romance of La Crosse" is a tremendous success in every way, and we are herewith quote
from their day letter:

"The picturization by our camera man, Granville L. Houel, is a real photographic gem, and
the clear lights throughout with our toning will certainly surprise the people of La Crosse as well as yourself. Walter Wagner and Ingrid Skogen will without doubt create a mild sensation when they are seen on the screen of the Majestic theater Sunday. The entire cast shows a unique aptitude for screen work and all of the boys
and girls at the laboratory
think it one of the prettiest pictures they have ever seen. The work is really wonderful for amateurs and we consider it much to La Crosse's credit to have so many talented people."

CENTRAL STATES FAIR TO BE FARMER'S SHOW HARDING WILL ATTEND

Exposition to be Held August 18 to 26 in $1,000,000
New Fair Grounds

AURORA, Ill.—The Central States
fair and exposition to be held August 18 to 26 in a new $1,000,000 fair grounds on the Lincoln highway near Aurora primarily will be a farmers'
show. President Harding has tentatively accepted an invitation to be present on August 24, and these promoting the event here promised to show him the greatest display of farm and manufactured products ever exhibited in the United States. Circuses, horse racing, automobile and baby show are among the attractions
arranged for the event.

The oldest man and woman engaged in farming in the United States
will be given $100 in gold and a complete outfit of modern farm implements and their expenses to and from the fair. Premiums, prizes and purses
to be given at the fair exceed $125,- 000.

The livestock farm produce exhibition promise to outdo those of any fair
of the central west, according to those in charge. Co-operating in the management of the displays are the Porcherson Society of America, American Association of Importers and Breeders of Belgian horses, American Shire Horse association, American Trout Register association, American Saddlehorse Breeders' association, American Shorthorn Breeders'
association, American Hereford Cattle
association, American Aberdeen-
Angus Breeders' association, Illinois
Red Polled Breeders' association, Holstein-Friesian Association of America,
American Duroc-Jersey Swine Breeders' association, National Duroc-Jersey Record association, Poland China
Breed Promotion committee, Illinois
Hampshire Breeders' association, Chester-White Record association and virtually all other associations concerned with the improvement of food
or draft animals and pet stock.

The University of Illinois has located an experimental plot on the grounds. Corn, oats, wheat, clover, rye, flax, millet, barley and other important grains of the middle west
will be shown.

Fruit and flowers will form another large exhibit with thousands of dollars in prizes being awarded for the best displays by amateur and professional growers. The baby show will be in charge of the board of health of the state of Illinois.

The best quilts, rugs, knitting, sofa
pillows, baskets, sewing, bread, cookies, cakes, jellies, preserves, canned fruit and candies, butter and other products of the home will be liberally rewarded. Besides a free for all class
there will be special prizes for the best work done by women more than 70 years old and for girls under 16.

The horse racing will be on a new $130,000 half mile track.

More than 3,000,000 pounds of Spanish mackerel are shipped from Key West yearly.

NEW BUILDINGS HAVE APPARATUS TO WASH AIR PASSING THROUGH

Washing Declared to Rid the Air of Many Harmful
Impurities

CHICAGO, Ill.—All of the finest
new buildings have installed in them
apparatus for washing the air that passes through their ventilating systems.

Chemically pure air consists of
about twenty-one per cent of oxygen,
about seventy-eight per cent of nitrogen, and about one per cent of an inactive gas called argon. Air is a mixture and not a compound; consequently the percentage of any one of these gases can be increased or decreased, but the above percentages
are the ones which normally occur.

In the city air is generally about six or seven parts of carbon to ten thousand parts of air, in the country
about three parts to the same amount,
and in inclosure rooms about fifty parts. Carbon dioxide comes from the combustion of coal and wood, and from the decay of vegetable and animal matter. It is exhaled by animals. There is always some dust in the air, the particles can be seen in a beam of sunlight crossing a room.

Bits of clay, limestone, road dust and refuse from the streets are caught up by the wind and carried into houses.
Even minute strands of cotton, linen and hay get into air, but the most objectionable of all are such organic particles as pollen grains, the spores
of fungi, and molds, bacteria and other microscopic organisms. It is these

BAKER TO OPEN HIS CAMPAIGN THURSDAY IN EVANSVILLE TALK

Twenty-six Speeches on Schedule for Attorney General
Candidate

MADISON, Wis.—John F. Baker, assistant attorney general, and candidate on the so-called independent progressive republican ticket for attorney general, opens his campaign
at Evansville, July 13, according to announcement from his headquarters
here Wednesday.

Twenty-six speeches are scheduled
on the first itinerary of the candidate for attorney general, which closed at Janesville on Saturday night. Rock, Walworth and Racine counties will be covered in the campaign tour.

After speaking at Evansville on Thursday morning, Mr. Baker will go to Magnolia, Footville, Orford-
ville, Hanover, Milton Junction, Milton, Lima Center and Johnston closing with an evening address at Edgemoor.

On Friday he will open the day
with a talk at Whitewater, going to Elkhorn, East Troy, Watertown, Rochester, Burlington, Lyons and ending at Lake Geneva that evening. Saturday will open with an address at Walworth. The candidate will then go to Darien, Delavan, Sharon, Clinton, Shopers, Emerald Grove and close the day with an evening address at Janesville.

Mr. Baker will be accompanied by George W. Blanchard, president of the Rock County Republican club.

OPENING OF A NEW SCENIC ROUTE TO YELLOWSTONE PARK

Through the Heart of the Rockies
and the Last of the Old West

The new scenic Teton Mountain
route from Lander, Wyo., to The Yellowstone opened July 1. Large, easy riding motor buses take you through the Shoshone Indian Reservation,
along the picturesque Wind River
which is crossed and recrossed many times to wonderful Brooks Lake, with the world's greatest trout fishing.

Other attractive features of the trip are unequalled views of the Teton Mountains, considered the most majestic of all ranges in the Rocky Mountain Region; and a ride through the Jackson Hole and Lake Region;
the greatest big game country in the world.

A new booklet, entitled "The Teton Mountain Route of Yellowstone National Park," is just off the press. Ask for a copy. Then you will want to go.

SPECIAL SESSION MUCH ADD ABOUT NOTHING--MORGAN

Candidate for Governor Criticizes Extra Session for Repeal of Income Tax Clause

CALLING OF SOLONS TOGETHER WAS INDEFENSIBLE HE SAYS

Nothing Accomplished that Couldn't Wait

SUPERIOR, Wis.—The proposed repeal of the secrecy clause of the income tax law for which Governor J. J. Blaine called a special session of the legislature in March of this year, was characterized Wednesday by William J. Morgan, attorney general and candidate for governor, as "a case of much talk with little merit behind the suggestion."

"Two members of the tax commission aver that a repeal of the secrecy clause would do no good whatever in assisting the state in collecting taxes on incomes to which it is lawfully entitled, and that the proposition is one that contains much mischief," Attorney General Morgan told his audience.

"The special session of the legislature was indefensible," Mr. Morgan continued. "Not one thing was accomplished that could not be accomplished either at the last regular session or at the next regular session of the legislature. The time during which the tax commission could go back over income returns was extended from three to six years but that could be done at the next session."

"One constructive law was passed that would have been helpful immediately and that was to make the income tax returns accessible to the attorney general and to district attorneys that would have assisted these officers in prosecuting combinations in restraint of trade. But that one constructive and necessary law passed at the special session was vetoed by the governor."

nations in restraint of trade. But that one constructive and necessary law passed at the special session was vetoed by the governor.

large sums in income taxes," Mr. Morgan said. "If that be so," he asked, "why no prosecutions?"

The attorney general has no authority to bring actions to recover taxes fraudulently withheld, except when requested or directed by the governor. If the governor does not desire to co-operate with the attorney general to vindicate the law which he claims has been violated, then he has 71 district attorneys, whose duty it would be to institute appropriate actions on the direction of the governor.

Had Your Iron Today?

Boy Scouts Know

Go on hikes in summer—sun beating on their heads. But they get there fresh.

Carry little raisins to sustain energy. It's a regulation with some troops.

1560 calories of energizing nutriment per pound in practically predigested form, so it goes to work almost immediately; yet doesn't tax digestion and so doesn't heat the blood.

Fatigue-resisting food-iron, too—good for stamina.

Heat got YOU this summer? Try the Boy Scout's way. Put back the vitality that hot weather saps.

Try two packages and a glass of milk for an energizing, healthful summer lunch.

Bush Has Edge on Shocker in Mound Duel; Freak Homer Cinches Game

PINCH HITTER'S SINGLE IN SEVENTH TRIPS SOX, 3-2

Morton Yields Four Hits, Tribe Beats Red Sox, 2 to 0

NEW YORK—The New York Yankees drew first blood on Tuesday in their series with St. Louis, Bush winning a keenly contested twirling duel from Shocker, 2 to 1. St. Louis' leading hitter, failed to reach base in four times up.

After St. Louis scored in the first inning on Tobias' single, St. Louis' lead was extended to 2-0 when New York tied the score in the second on a freak home run by Ward. In trying to make a one-handed catch on Ward's high line drive, Williams batted the ball into the bleachers for a home run. Score: St. Louis, 2; New York, 0.

Washington, D. C.—Washington took out an opening game of the series from Chicago on Tuesday, 3 to 2. Earl Smith, batting for Mordridge in seventh, drove out a hit which was responsible for the two runs which won the game. Score: Washington, 3; Sox, 2.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Washington took out an opening game of the series from Chicago on Tuesday, 3 to 2. Earl Smith, batting for Mordridge in seventh, drove out a hit which was responsible for the two runs which won the game. Score: Washington, 3; Sox, 2.

BOSTON—Morton held Boston to four hits on Tuesday and Cleveland won, 2 to 0. Gardner's single, a bunt and O'Neill's double scored one run in the fifth. Singles by Wamby and Wood and an infield error accounted for the other two runs in the sixth. The score: Cleveland, 2; Boston, 0.

PHILADELPHIA—Philadelphia won both ends of a double header on Tuesday from Detroit, 4 to 2 and 9 to 8. Rommel receiving credit for both triumphs. Walker hit his twelfth home run of the season in the first game and his twenty-first in the second. Young made six straight hits during the two games. Score: Philadelphia, 4; Detroit, 2.

THIRD QUALIFYING ROUND AT SKOKIE SET FOR WEDNESDAY POSTPONED ACCOUNT OF RAIN

GLENCOE, Ill.—By the Associated Press.—Wednesday's qualifying rounds in the national open golf tournament was postponed until tomorrow when it was found to be impossible to play over the course which had been flooded by a heavy rain which showed no signs of letting up at 10 a. m.

The course was a collection of small ponds and the traps were full of water, many of the greens virtually were under water and the fairways were flooded. The entire course really was "casual water" and there was no dry place to put a ball after lifting it from the many little ponds.

The finals will played Friday and Saturday. Saturday had been held open for a possible play off of a tie and if there is a tie it will have to be decided Sunday or Monday.

PLAYGROUND ACTIVITIES

The Hood Street Seniors remained on top in the south side indoor league when they defeated the West Avenue Singers Tuesday evening, 6 to 0. Schmidt pitched his usual good game, striking out ten men and permitting but one hit. Feature of the game was Troyanek's catch in right field when after running a great distance, he stooped to spear a liner just above the ground with one hand. The Hood street team has reorganized with the following lineup: Christopher, c; Schmidt, p; Havel, 1b; Troyanek, 2b; Krismier, 3b; Solberg, 1st; Blank, 1st; Krosskoph, 1st; Byer, cf; Danasik, rf. This team will play West Avenue again Thursday, July 13.

The Copeland Park Juniors won from West Avenue Tuesday night, 4 to 0. Franzen, pitching for the winners, was the individual star, striking out 14 of the opposing batters. Batteries—Copeland Park: Franzen and H. Olson; West Avenue: Jansky and Miller.

The Copeland Park Midgets shut out the Hood Street Midgets Tuesday evening, 14 to 0. Larson pitched a consistent game for the Copelanders having ten strikeouts and good control throughout. Batteries—Copeland: Larson and Hurr; Hood Street: Miller and Huchner. The Copeland Park Midgets second team defeated the Hood Street second team, 10 to 9.

The M. & C. Newburgs won their third straight game Tuesday evening when they defeated the West Avenue team, 8 to 2. The Newburgs were beaten by the West Avenue team two weeks ago, marking their only defeat. West Avenue was outplayed throughout Tuesday evening, with wonderful support behind Grabinski. A feature was a home run by Lee. The Newburgs have now won 4 and lost one. Score by innings:
West Avenue.....101 000 0—2
M. & C. Newburgs.....211 103 x—8
Batteries: Vores and Jansky; Grabinski and Waleski.

TOBACCO POOL TO BE IN OPERATION BY AUGUST FIRST

Machinery Will be in Full Running Order Within a Few Weeks Reports Foster

MEMBERS HAVE DIRECT VOICE IN MANAGEMENT OF CONCERN

Undertaking Largest Co-operative Effort in State

MADISON, Wis.—The Northern Wisconsin Tobacco pool organized by Wisconsin farmers to market co-operatively this state's tobacco crop will get under way August 7, L. G. Foster, deputy commissioner of markets announced Wednesday.

Permanent organization of the co-operative interests will be completed before that time, and preparation is under way to provide warehouse facilities to handle a large part of the Wisconsin crop of tobacco produced annually in Wisconsin.

First action in the affairs of the marketing association is to be had at a meeting through election of a board of directors, composed of representatives from among the growers of the four state districts, to be held at this time, and will be held probably during the last week in July.

Each of the districts represented by the 16 directors members of the pool will meet and nominate three of its members from whom the directorate of the district will be elected. The board of directors as elected will meet to set in motion the machinery for marketing the present year's crop.

A body known co-operative association has been organized to come to Wisconsin to aid in perfecting the work of organization involved in the project. Because of the varied needs and prices that must be established in marketing tobacco, the organization is for carrying on this undertaking the largest of its kind ever attempted by Wisconsin farmers, must be carefully perfected before operation.

Mr. Foster points out that the establishment of a system of warehouses will be one of the main undertakings of the organization of the pool. It is in organizing these warehouses that a part of the $25,000,000 loan to the enterprise under way will be required. Funds are to be made available by Wisconsin banks.

When the organization is finally completed the directors will consider the selection of a pool manager, who will be in charge of the sales organization. By centralized selling the farmers expect to be able to realize larger prices.

BADGER DIES OF INJURIES RECEIVED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

AURORA, Ill.—H. A. Nelson of Eau Claire, Wis., died Wednesday at the Aurora hospital, of injuries sustained Sunday when an automobile in which he and August Hoffman of Racine were riding, was struck by a freight train. Hoffman was killed instantly. Nelson's version of the accident was not learned as he died without regaining consciousness from the time he was picked up. He leaves a wife and four children.

BLAINE PAROLE OF MILWAUKEE MAN IS UPHOLD IN RULING

State Board Must Release Meyer Upon Order of the Governor Says Morgan Aid

MADISON, Wis.—Governor J. J. Blaine was acting within his authority when he directed the parole of Otto Meyer, former Milwaukee policeman, serving a five-year sentence in the Milwaukee house of correction, J. E. Messerschmidt, assistant attorney general, advised the state board of correction Wednesday. Meyer is now out of prison on a writ of habeas corpus issued after the state board had taken the stand that it could not direct his release on the governor's order.

"I am persuaded that the order of the governor is valid and authorized by law," Mr. Messerschmidt said. "While there may be doubt as to the power of the governor to order the board of correction to grant parole to the prisoner, still it must be conceded," he declared, that the governor has the power in this state to grant a conditional pardon which in effect will be a parole.

"Authorities go so far as to hold the pardoning power in Wisconsin to include the power to release a convict on parole. It is the duty of the board to release Meyer on the governor's order."

ROAD CONTRACTOR LIABLE FOR DAMAGE TO OTHER HIGHWAYS

MADISON, Wis.—When a road contractor in constructing highways damages other roads in the process, he can be held personally liable for the damage, the attorney general's department held today. Even though he was building a state highway, the state cannot be held legally responsible, the opinion said.

"That a contractor is personally liable for damage done, there is probably no doubt," the attorney general said. "It may be, too, that he and his agents and employees concerned in the injury of the roads are personally liable to prosecution and punishment and to pay the whole cost of restoring the roads to their former condition."

Inquiry was made of the attorney general by the highway commission after towns had complained that certain contractors had cut up their roads by driving heavy gravel trucks over them.

STATE DRAWS OVER HUNDRED THOUSAND INTEREST ON FUNDS

MADISON, Wis.—Interest on state funds in the 453 Wisconsin depositories amounted to $109,526 during the past quarter, Henry Johnson, state treasurer, announced today. This money is in the banks to accumulate further interest.

State funds are loaned out to depositories at 3 per cent interest. At the present time nearly $14,000,000 of state money is in the various banks.

SENATE CANDIDATE ON TOUR THROUGH CENTRAL WISCONSIN

Ganfield Accompanied by Martin Paulsen, Candidate for Secretary of State

MADISON, Wis.—Dr. W. A. Ganfield, candidate for U. S. senator in the republican primaries, September 5, and Martin R. Paulsen, candidate for secretary of state, will address meetings through central Wisconsin during this week and next.

Friday the two candidates will talk at La Crosse, going from there to Whitehall on Saturday noon and to Neillsville, Saturday night. The next week will be opened by Dr. Ganfield with an address at Eau Claire on Monday. He will tour Buffalo and Pepin counties speaking to gatherings in towns along the way on Tuesday, ending with a night address at Hudson.

On Wednesday, the senatorial candidate is to address meetings in St. Croix, Polk and Barron counties, ending with a night address at Spooner.

Washburn, Barron and Chippewa Falls will be covered on July 20, ending with a night address at Chippewa Falls. Friday the candidate will speak at Stanley, Cadotte and other towns in Rusk county, closing the day with a talk at Ladysmith. He will speak at Phillips and at Ashland on Saturday.

What a Few Distinguished People at Home and Abroad, Authors and Critics, Have to Say About

"WITHIN THE YEAR AFTER"

EDNA FERRER, author of "The Girls": "Your descriptions of Italy after the war had an especial appeal for me. There has been so little written about the Italian end of it. It is something of a shock to come upon your description of a shell-torn Italian village. The German chapters too—they give a new light on conditions throughout the country. What a fine, thrilling, harrowing, uncomfortable, amazing, revealing time of it you must have had. And how glad I am you have given us this book about it."

WASHINGTON, D. C. STAR: "This writer, being a woman, sees so many little things that, placed rightly, re-create a place a person, a situation in the very color and substance and meaning of its original form. It is a true record with the value of history tucked away in it. It is, however, the personality of the writer that counts so clearly here. She has said the thing that came to mind—the apt thing, the revealing thing, the bright thing. The result of this freedom joined to fact is a book of exceptional attraction and of many fresh bits of information, that have been overlooked by the more ponderous observer. Miss Adler was special correspondent to a newspaper syndicate in the war area and a correspondent of the American Peace commission as well, so special opportunity is added here to the personal equipment and gifts of the writer herself."

CHAS. STEPHENSON SMITH (Associated Press correspondent in Europe and Russia during the war. Now in charge of the A. P. Bureau, stationed permanently in Berlin): "I am sure your book has afforded many stay at homes a much better idea of the situation in Belgium and France than they were able to get elsewhere."

LIEUT.-COL. SAROT, commandant of the citadel of Verdun, France, from June, 1916, to November, 1919, writes to the author: "Permit me to congratulate you. You have done an excellent work in publishing your trip to the front. That book will be very much appreciated by all your countrymen by those who took part in the war, those who have traveled over the battlefields as well as those who have only heard the echoes of that horrible tragedy. They will all read your book with interest."

SIoux CITY JOURNAL (Editorial): "A book everywhere equally graphic, thrilling and intense in its heart grip. The American who does not read 'Within the Year After' will miss a gem of post-war literature."

NEW YORK TIMES: "Really a distinctive book in the rapid, colorful, widely inclusive sketch it gives of conditions in Europe within the year after the armistice."

Shame on Them.

PERHAPS there are a few mothers who do not know the virtues of Fletcher's Castoria. Perhaps there are a few who know that there are imitations on the market, and knowing this demand Fletcher's. It is to ALL motherhood, then, that we call attention to the numerous imitations and counterfeits that may be set before them.

It is to all motherhood everywhere that we ring out the warning to beware of the "Just-as-good". For over thirty years Fletcher's Castoria has been an aid in the upbuilding of our population; an aid in the saving of babies.

And yet there are those who would ask you to try something new. Try this. Try that. Even try the same remedy for the tiny, scarcely breathing, babe that you in all your robust womanhood would use for yourself. Shame on them.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Your Friend, the Physician.

The history of all medicines carries with it the story of battles against popular beliefs: fights against prejudice; even differences of opinion among scientists and men devoting their lives to research work; laboring always for the betterment of mankind. This information is at the hand of all physicians. He is with you at a moment's call as the trouble trifling or great. He is your friend, your household counselor. He is the one to whom you can always look for advice even though it might not be a case of sickness. He is not just a doctor. He is a student to his last and final call. His patients are his family and to lose one is little less than losing one of his own flesh and blood.

Believe him when he tells you—as he will—that Fletcher's Castoria has never harmed the littlest babe, and that it is a good thing to keep in the house. He knows.

RESIDENT FISHING LICENSE PROPOSED FOR BADGER STATE

Suggestion for One Dollar License Fee Approved at Madison Conservation Meeting

APPROVE PLAN FOR UNIFORM LAWS IN NEIGHBORING STATES

Meeting of Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin Officials

MADISON, Wis.—A resident fishing license for game fish in Wisconsin was promised Wednesday at the conservation conference here and favorably acted on by the 150 delegates representing every section of the state. The 1923 legislature will be asked to establish a $1 license fee to be paid by all fishermen. Revenue amounting to $300,000 would be realized, the conservation commission estimates.

The conference endorsed a suggestion of Carlos Avery, conservation commissioner of Minnesota, that a meeting of commissioners of Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin meet to devise uniform fishing laws for the three bordering states to eliminate the differences that now exist.

The delegates decided that the special boys' trapping licenses established by the last session of the legislature should be continued at 25 cents each. They agreed that at least one conservation warden should be located in each county and will ask the 1923 legislature to provide ample funds for game and fish protection.

Endorsement was given the plan for purchase by popular subscription of the Northern Lakes park area. A comprehensive forestry program for Wisconsin was discussed, and agreement reached that the state should plan to preserve the wooded sections of lake and river frontage in the state.

The conference, which completed work today, will be held annually and be broadened in its scope, the delegates decided.

LITTLE RESPONSE MADE TO APPEAL FOR STORM RELIEF

MADISON, Wis.—The people of Wisconsin failed to respond to the appeal for relief from the tornado victims in northern Wisconsin, according to Henry Johnson, state treasurer. Less than $4,000 has been donated to the relief fund which the Governor hoped would reach $200,000. Farmers of the district who lost all their belongings in the storm are doing their best to rebuild the storm-stricken district, the treasurer reports. They are in need of funds to tide them over the present year to provide means of reconstructing their farm buildings. Crops of the district covering four counties are almost a total loss.

FAMOUS BARITONE WILL APPEAR AT NORMAL THURSDAY

Louis Kreidler, Leading Baritone Soloist, Sings at Normal Thursday Morning

Mr. Kreidler is recognized as one of the leading baritones of the day having achieved notable success in several difficult roles. Press notices from all over the country laud his ability on the concert stage.

Mr. Kreidler's voice is one of peculiar beauty—full, resonant and employed with astonishing skill. His long training in oratorio and concert prior to his operatic debut has endowed him with a keen sense of the exactions of the concert platform, and his pure diction and faultless style combine to make him one of the favorite concert baritones now before the public.

Mr. Kreidler will appear here in one of the regular numbers of the normal summer school lecture course.

HOPE HAMPTON IN "STARDUST" COMING TO RIVOLI THEATER

Hope Hampton will be the star on the screen at the Rivoli theater, beginning Thursday, when "Stardust," adapted from Fanny Hurst's famous story of the same name, will be presented.

Miss Hampton has the role of Lily Becker, a native of a small town in the middle west, whose longing to express herself in the world of music meets only derision at home. She is made the victim of a loveless marriage, and soon after leaves her brutal husband, bravely trying to carve out a career for herself unaided. The experiences of Lily Becker provide Hope Hampton with a great opportunity to exercise her histrionic ability. James Rennie, a favorite of the spoken stage, appears opposite in the leading male role as Thomas Clemens, a young composer.

"THE SPANISH JADE" PHOTOGRAPHED IN SPAIN

Most of the exteriors of "The Spanish Jade," John S. Robertson's latest Paramount picture, which will be screened at the Majestic theater today and Thursday, were "shot" at the little town of Carmona, some twenty-five miles distant from Seville, Spain.

Nothing was lacking—the town was complete in every essential of "local atmosphere"—the long cobbled streets with their white houses and ornamental window gratings, the castellated ruins of the old walls and the cuspid gateways, still recalling after centuries have passed, the occupation of Spain by the Moors.

David Powell is featured and Marc McDermott and Evelyn Brent are well known players in the cast.

which make rather notable "The Ordeal," which opened last night at the Rivoli theater with Agnes Ayres in the star role.

In the first place, the villain is disposed of in the first reel—but his influence hangs over the remainder of the picture. There's a crippled sister who becomes an important figure when a cure makes her into a super-flapper. And as an overture to it all, is a will which stands as a barrier to the happiness of several persons.

It's rather colorful different material. Miss Ayres is splendidly convincing as the young widow while Conrad Nagel and Clarence Burton are well-cast as leading man and "heavy" respectively. Edward Sutherland and Edna Murphy are excellent as the young sister and brother of the heroine.

which Bert Lytell, the Metro star, heads the unusually good cast, there is unfolded a story which has all the elements of universal popularity and which grows in interest and suspense with a logical development and a regard for the plausibilities which is too often ignored by the scenario writers. In this instance, as the son who accepts the guilt of a father whose reputation is at stake, and who goes into exile in a lonely mountainous country and there becomes involved in a series of stirring adventures, Mr. Lytell is at his best. In the cast supporting Mr. Lytell is Sylvia Breamer.

VIOLA DANA JOINS RANKS OF AUTHORS

Viola Dana, star of "The Fourteenth Lover," now at the Strand, frantically covered up the sheet of paper on which she was scribbling, as the shadow of someone standing at her shoulder appeared. The man proved to be her director, Harry Beaumont.

"Poetry?"

"The little star flushed.

"Certainly not!" she replied indignantly. "Making up sentences out of the titles of our pictures."

She brought forth the sheet of paper, which Mr. Beaumont read.

"Life's Darn Funny. There Are No Villains," was one sentence. Another, "The Idle Rich Keep Off the Grass," and a third, "Little Eva Asks the Hole in the Wall."

"But I have one that's got a moral," she said. "I didn't write it down. 'People who live in 'Glass Houses' should not wear 'Garments of Truth.' Think it over. It's deep and tricky."

ORCHESTRA TO PLAY RETURN ENGAGEMENT AT THE YEOMEN HALL

H. A. Lee, manager of the Yeomen hall, announces that he has secured the well known Peavey's orchestra for the week end dances on this week. This orchestra has pleased the dancing public in La Crosse on previous occasions.

The dance hall of the Yeomen society has been partly remodeled and redecorated recently. New lighting and ventilating systems have transformed the hall into a semi-open air pavilion.

ITALIAN STREET FAIR IS BIG STUNT FOR WORTHY CAUSE

Community Council to Use Riverside Park for One Night for Tuberculosis Sanatorium

Since the announcement some days ago that the La Crosse Community Council was to present Oak Forest Tuberculosis Sanatorium with one of the handsomest, largest and best radio sets in La Crosse county, for which purpose the council was to give some sort of an entertainment to raise the funds, many have been wondering just what the women of the Community Council had up their sleeves. Now comes the announcement that with the consent and co-operation of the park commission, the Levy Brothers and the Wisconsin Light and Power company, they are to stage a real Italian street fair in Riverside park on Friday, July 21, from 5 until 11 p. m.

The old club house that the council used during the war as a soldier's club will do service again this night. The south end of Riverside park will be roped off for a street dance hall. Push carts of fruits manned by fair vendors will cry their wares. Lassies with balloons, Italian flower or vendors, ice cream cones, home-made cakes, sandwiches, coffee and, oh, boy! just to be a child again that night, prominent society women are to run a real hot dog stand—fry 'em white you wait. A kangaroo court presided over by a real judge and honest-to-goodness 1922 coppers will keep peace and order.

Watch for Sunday's announcement of all committees and full details. Then get your pocket full of change, bring the good wife and kiddies down to Riverside park and help make the affair the success the worthy cause demands of us healthy red blooded citizens.

COMPROMISE WAGE CUT OFFERED MEN ON CHICAGO LINES

Reduction of Three and One-half Percent, Effective Sept. 1. Proposed by Employers

CHICAGO, Ill.—A wage reduction of approximately 3½ per cent for employees of the North Shore Electric railway was agreed on for submission for final action to the employees at a meeting Tuesday between union leaders and representatives of the company.

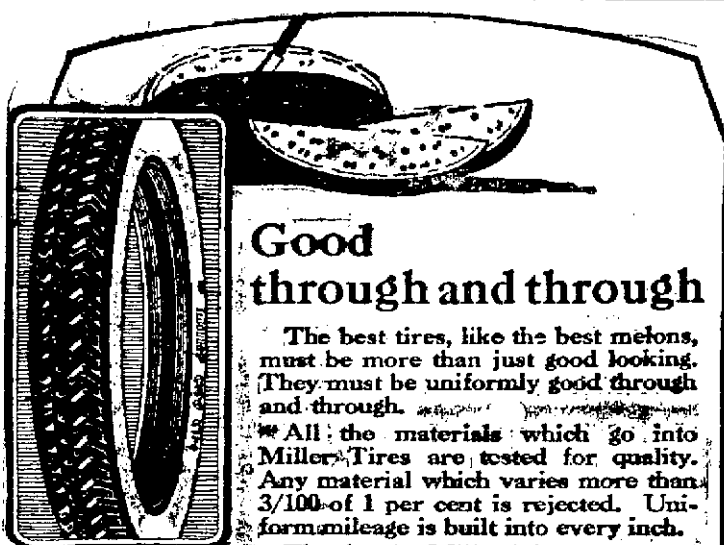

The reduction from the present scale of 73 cents an hour to 70 cents was agreed on as a compromise after the company had announced plans for a five per cent reduction effective September 1 when the present agreement expires and another five per cent to become effective on January 1, 1923.

The compromise agreement, if accepted by the men, would not become effective until September 1.

At a meeting of employees of the North Shore line last night at which the report of the union's executive committee was submitted, it was decided to call for a referendum vote next week on the acceptance or rejection of the cut. The date for the referendum was not set.

Department Remodeling Sale Of Paints, Varnish, Enamel, Stains and Wall Paper

The basement paint and wall paper department is being remodeled. An entire rearrangement is planned; shelves are to be moved to admit more space. New display racks are to be added. In fact no effort is being spared in making this spacious paint and wall paper section one of the finest in this section.

To go ahead with our present plan it will be necessary to reduce our present stock at least 30% by August 1st.

For the rest of this month we will make a SPECIAL REDUCTION OF 25c on the gallon of the following brands of paints and varnishes. Sherwin-Williams Paints, Fort Dearborn Paints, Ripolin Enamel, Valspar Varnishes, Enamels and Colored Varnishes, Dupont Varnish, Rodger's Stains, Glidden's Green Label Varnish and Jap-a-Lac.

WALL PAPER SECTION

To facilitate this readjustment we have decided to offer unheard of price reductions on our present stock; to eliminate all the smaller lots, to clear all broken assortments so we can open our new and improved department with only new fresh papers. Savings from 30 to 60%.
